

€ TRAINING

Learn Change Management Methodology

15 - 19 September 2024
Istanbul (Turkey)

Learn Change Management Methodology

REF: Z2579 DATE: 15 - 19 September 2024 Venue: Istanbul (Turkey) - Fee: 5300 Euro

Introduction:

This training program equips participants with the knowledge and skills to effectively navigate organizational change initiatives. It empowers them to foster a positive and productive environment, ultimately motivating organizations to embrace change and achieve lasting improvements.

Program Objectives:

At the end of this program, participants will be able to:

- Understand the core principles of change management and its role in organizational success.
- Identify different types of organizational change and their unique management requirements.
- Develop a comprehensive change management plan tailored to specific initiatives.
- Utilize effective communication strategies to build buy-in and manage resistance during change.
- Motivate and support employees throughout the change process to ensure a smooth transition.
- Measure the effectiveness of change initiatives and identify areas for continuous improvement.

Targeted Audience:

- Managers and leaders responsible for implementing change initiatives.
- Change management professionals.
- Human resource personnel.
- Project managers.
- Anyone involved in facilitating organizational change.

Program Outline:

Unit 1:

Fundamentals of Change Management:

- Defining change management and its importance in today's dynamic business environment.
- The impact of change on individuals and organizations: Exploring the psychology of change and potential resistance factors.

- Benefits of effective change management: Increased employee engagement, improved adoption rates, and smoother transitions.
- Different models of change management: Kotter's 8-Step Change Model, Lewin's Change Management Model, ADKAR Model.
- Selecting the appropriate change management model based on the nature of the change initiative.

Unit 2:

Building a Comprehensive Change Management Plan:

- Developing a clear vision and compelling rationale for the change initiative.
- Conducting a thorough change impact assessment: Identifying stakeholders, potential risks, and opportunities.
- Creating a communication strategy: Tailoring messages to different audiences and utilizing effective communication channels.
- Developing a stakeholder engagement plan: Involving key stakeholders throughout the change process.
- Defining clear roles and responsibilities: Assigning ownership and accountability for change implementation.

Unit 3:

Communication and Managing Resistance:

- Crafting clear, concise, and consistent communication throughout the change process.
- Identifying and addressing common concerns and resistance: Utilizing active listening and addressing anxieties effectively.
- Building trust and transparency to foster a collaborative and supportive environment.
- Developing strategies to overcome resistance: Providing training, resources, and addressing emotional aspects of change.
- Using storytelling and positive reinforcement to motivate employees and celebrate successes.

Unit 4:

Leading and Supporting Employees Through Change:

- The role of leadership in change management: Providing direction, encouragement, and leading by example.

- Building a culture of adaptability and continuous improvement: Encouraging employees to embrace change and learn from experiences.
- Empowering and coaching employees to develop the skills and confidence necessary for successful transitions.
- Providing ongoing support and feedback to address concerns and maintain employee engagement.
- Identifying and celebrating change champions who can inspire and motivate others.

Unit 5:

Measuring Change Management Effectiveness:

- Establishing Key Performance Indicators KPIs to track progress and assess the success of change initiatives.
- Evaluating employee engagement and satisfaction with the change process.
- Monitoring achievement of objectives and desired outcomes.
- Identifying areas for improvement and adapting the change management approach as needed.
- Sharing lessons learned to inform future change initiatives.